

Document Exchange

Secure Courier

echo's Document Exchange provides a secure service that collects from your chosen location, dispatches through echo's trunking network and then delivers to your end customer.

Our trained Secure Couriers will operate within specifically defined criteria, checking ID's, signatures and utility bills to confirm the recipient's identity; either at a home or a prearranged location. Ensuring that the document is delivered to its intended recipient is a valuable part of the service.

The service also includes a return process that ensures the document is correctly completed and returned securely. It's timely and safe return allows the agreement to be actioned in the shortest possible time.

With a range of delivery options that include Sameday, Nextday, predetermined time slots or Saturday and Sunday deliveries, echo's service is secure, flexible, reliable and cost effective.
